Numb. 4367

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Monday September 15. to Thursday September 18. 1707.

Windsor, September 16.

THE following Addreſs from the Rt. Hon. the Lord Lieutenant, Deputy-Lieutenants, High Sheriff, Juſtices of the Peace, Grand Jury, and other Gentlemen, of the County of Berks, was preſented to Her Majeſty by Richard Nevills Eſq; one of their Repreſentatives in Parliament: Introduced by Mr. Secretary Harley.

WE, the Lord Lieutenant, Deputy-Lieutenants, High Sheriff, Juſtices of the Peace, Grand Jury, and other Gentlemen, of this County of Berks, at the Aſſizes held at Abingdon, July 21. 1707. do moſt humbly and affectionately lay hold on this Opportunity (with the reſt of Your Majeſty's dutiful Subjects) to offer our gratulatory Senſe of Your Sacred Majeſty's tender Care and Concern of all Your Subjects, and their Poſterity, by ſucceſsfully accompliſhing the happy Union of this Iſland of Great Britain into One Kingdom; being an undoubted Evidence of Your Majeſty's Royal Wiſdom, and Energy and Strength of Your Councils: Which makes us with with great Confidence entirely rely on the Juſtice and Honour of all Your Deſigns both at home and abroad. Since this great Work was reſerved by Divine Providence for Your Majeſty's moſt happy Reign, we doubt not to reap the bleſſed Effects of this Union, by ſuppreſſing thoſe unhappy and groundleſs Diſtinctions of Parties that have too long prevailed amongſt us; and that all Your Majeſty's Proteſtant Subjects may ſhew that Charity and Unanimity towards each other, as the Religion of the Church of England by Law Eſtabliſhed recommends. And, above all, we pray, That Your Majeſty may long reign over us, that we may enjoy the bleſſed Effects of all Your memorable and glorious Atchievements.

Which Addreſs Her Majeſty received very graciouſly.

Geneva, Sept. 10. N.S. The Common People of this State having been of late Years much inclined to Innovation, ſome turbulent Spirits among thoſe of higher Condition had engaged many of them in ſeditious Deſigns; and by degrees led them into a regular Conſpiracy againſt the Commonwealth. If the Plot they had formed had taken effect, it was to have ended in the Aſſaſſination of our Magiſtrates, and the Ruine of our Conſtitution. The Government having had an Intimation of theſe pernicious Practices, kept a watchful Eye over the Conſpirators, till Things were almoſt ripe for Execution, and unexpectedly gave Orders for apprehending the moſt dangerous among the Traitors, who have ſince been brought to their ſeveral Trials, and received the due Reward of their Treaſon. Monſieur Fatio, the Leader in the Conſpiracy, whom his Accomplices intended to have placed at the Head of the Commonwealth, was ſentenced to have been beheaded; but at the Inſtance of his Brother and other Relations, who are Men of Figure and Reputation, ſo ſhameful an Execution, by the Hands of the common Hangman, was remitted; and he was ſhot to death by a Party of Soldiers in the Priſon, and privately buried in the ſame Place. Le Maiſtre, another of the Criminals, was publickly hang'd on a Gibbet. A third, named Piaget, was executed in Effigie, he had fled from Juſtice; but was drowned in the River Rhone as he endeavoured to ſwim over it, and make his Eſcape. Lachenas, who is looked upon as a weak Man, and betray'd into the Deſign, has his Life ſpared; but is condemned to loſe his Rights of a Citizen, and baniſhed for ever. They all acknowledged the Juſtice of the Sentences pronounc'd againſt them; and Fatio in particular own'd the Lenity with which he was treated, in being put to death without undergoing the Shame of a publick Execution.

Dreſden, Sept. 13. The Swediſh Troops have obſerved a ſtrict Order and Diſcipline in their March out of this Country. The greater Number of thoſe Forces has already paſſed the Frontiers. When his Majeſty of Sweden came into this City on the 6th Inſtant, he was accompanied only by the Duke Adminiſtrator of Holſtein, the young Prince of Wirtemberg, and three other Officers. After he had made his laſt Viſit to King Auguſtus, the Electrice Dowager, and the Prince Royal, he was entertained with a View of the Apartments of the Palace, and the Fortifications of the Town. His Majeſty did not ſtay a full Hour in the City. At his Departure he was ſaluted by the Diſcharge of Cannon from all the Ramparts. King Auguſtus accompanied his Swediſh Majeſty two Miles from the Town, where thoſe two Princes took Leave of each other. King Auguſtus returning hither, and the King of Sweden taking the Way of Bautzen. King Auguſtus is wholly recovered of his late Indiſpoſition; but is ſtill under great Uneaſineſs, by reaſon of a Swelling in his Leg.

On Wedneſday laſt Count Zinzendorf, Envoy Extraordinary from his Imperial Majeſty, took Leave of this Court, and began his Journey to Sileſia. He was followed the next Day by two Couriers from Vienna, who carried the Treaty between the Imperial and Swediſh Courts, ratified by the Emperor. It is not doubted but that Ratification is at this time in the Hands of his Swediſh Majeſty; from whence we conclude the Stay of the Swedes in the Hereditary Countries will be much ſhorter than was intended.

Francfort, Sept. 14. N.S. The French having given out, That they deſign to beſiege Landau, ſome Troops are ſent thither, with great Quantities of Ammunition and Proviſions for the Uſe of that Gariſon. His Electoral Highneſs of Hanover arrived yeſterday at Philipsbourg, and was received by a triple Diſcharge of the Cannon round the Ramparts, the whole Gariſon and Militia being under Arms. The Elector had a long Conference with the Governor of that City; with whom his Electoral